

Phenomenological Research in Psychology

Department of Psychology invites to a lecture by

James Morley, Ph.D., Professor of psychology, Ramapo College of New Jersey and Editor-in-Chief Journal of Phenomenological Psychology.

Magnus Englander, Ph.D., Associate professor of psychology, Malmö University and Lund University.

The lecture takes place

March 2, 2018, at 10:15-12:00

University of Copenhagen,

Øster Farimagsgade 5, 1353 Copenhagen K, Room 2.1.12

In this talk phenomenological psychology, its history, theory, and method, will be outlined. The American psychologist Amedeo Giorgi adopted Edmund Husserl's phenomenology in order to establish a human scientific approach to psychology. This method takes its departure in the lifeworld aiming to clarify the qualitative structures of psychological phenomena through lived experiences. Some recent developments within the area will be discussed.